It's all over but the explanations.

Election progresses quietly but intensely.

No country on earth is saved so often as this one.

There is little use in talking anything but election to-day.

The bright dawn of rapid transit should be right at hand.

There is more than the usual magnetism at the polls to-day.

It is worth while to be a citizen to-day—unless one misses his vote.

No man left less doubt than Grover Cleveland as to which way he went to-day.

It remains to be seen whether China wants peace more than Japan wants peace.

Don't believe all you hear about election bets. There's more wind than dust in them.

Whoever a new Grand Jury is impeached now the police all while "they're after me."

The man who has voted early and as often as the law allows has done his citizen's duty for the day.

Real snow in this State to-day. Ballot-box snow here, too. Many candidates will be snowed under by 4 P. M.

McKane's thoughts of Gravesend to-day must be long thoughts.

This is the Better New York's day to earn their Thanksgiving turkeys.

The lights on "The World's" dome will flash the earliest story of the day's results.

Better New Yorkers' calling was loud enough. Now to learn that their election is sure.

The race political differs from the horse race in that the runner who comes in second doesn't get the place.

That hour is darkest which is just before the dawn; that one is longest before the returns come in.

A snowstorm for election day up north and a blizzard in the East. What New York asks is a cleansing tidal wave.

Will England try to browbeat Japan? The Japanese have said they would not be afraid to give Johnny Bull battle.

The Lexow Committee has shown up Tammany's hand. It is for the voters to-day, to sustain the committee's hands.

The greedy Tiger in one balance. New York's self-respect in the other. That was the condition when the polls opened this morning.

The death scene when the czar passed away shows what a puny thing a mortal monarch is when the inevitable overtakes him.

Robbers seem to be repeating these days. They are getting in their work while the police are looking after the other repeaters.

Some Trust officials have been arrested in Philadelphia, but we can assure Attorney-General Olney's admirers that they are not Sugar Trust officials.

Farmer Dunn's clear, cool weather for election day got here on time. It ought to prove particularly cool for Tammany and particularly clear for the Better New York.

After the smoke of battle has cleared away, perhaps Mr. Cleveland can be induced to write a letter to Mr. Olney in regard to the enforcement that should supersede the misinterpretation of the anti-trust law.

The Rutherford man who lost his life yesterday in his hurry to get a seat in a train paid a terrible price for his haste.

THE LADY ON THE TIGER

Once upon a time a very smart man wrote a story about a catfish who loved a young man who was condemned to be cast to the wild beasts in the arena. The princess had a "pull" and succeeded in getting the sentence mitigated to the extent that the young man was given one chance for life. In one cage was a lion and in another a tiger. In another cage a beautiful young woman was to be confined. The young man was to open the door of whichever cage he thought best and be devoured by the tiger or marry the girl, as fate should direct his hand. But the princess, still with her "pull," got a tip as to which cage held the lady and which the tiger, and arranged to signal from her seat in the royal box to the young man in the arena which door he should open. The day arrived, and the moment when the young man opened the door. The princess, who was sitting in her box, knew that she was about to consign her lover to a horrible fate or another woman. No one knows which she did, for the story ended right there, and nobody has ever written a sequel.

A FAIR FIELD AND NO FAVOR

The clerk of the weather is a good fellow. After frantically trying to make a stormy day and making everybody believe he had resolved to play the role of a partisan in this interesting election, he has turned around and given us a model day for a full vote; neither too warm nor too cold, clean streets, clear air, as clean as the dispensation of Andrew, will permit them to be clear sunshine and a breeze, in favorable air, fit to put life and energy into the dullest elector.

SWEET HELLO FOR HIS GIRL

A boy at the Democratic State Committee's headquarters ran up a telephone bill of about $18 for talking over the wire to his best girl in Rochester. The bill was paid by the committee. The boy is a New York and of the phone, and she waited back warm words of endearment from the other end, and the copper sized and burned and sputtered along several hundred miles while they cooed and courted.

VOTE AT ONCE

It is to be supposed that most of "The Evening World's" readers will have put their votes into the ballot boxes before they read this. They do their duty well, and to vote early is one of their duties, as taught by their favorite journal.

A NEWARK CANDIDATE CELEBRATED HIS ENTRY INTO POLITICS BY A SPEECH THAT BROUGHT ON THE JIM JAMES, WHEN HE THREW HIMSELF OUT OF A THIRD-STORY WINDOW. HE WILL DIE.

HOW FOR NEW YORK

Before our readers enjoy to-morrow's "Evening World," let us say a word about the certain political complexion of the State and city will be settled until another election rolls round.

THE EVENING WORLD'S GALLERY OF LIVING PICTURES

This is the picture of a woman who can't vote herself, but has a man to cast her vote for proxy, and who is also a watcher at the polls.

ONLY ONE CHAIR FOR BOTH

And there is talk of kissing under those circumstances, too.

THEY SHOULD BE ENGAGED

In reply to the question whether it is proper for a respectable young lady to kiss a young man and to sit on his lap, though not being engaged to him, I would say that common sense should tell the young lady that it is not proper, and I believe if a young man intends to marry a girl he will think more of her if she does not allow him such privilege until they are engaged.

NOTHING WRONG IN IT

I do not see any impropriety in a young lady kissing a young man to whom she is not engaged. I do not mean by that that she should kiss every young man or sit on his lap who comes to see her, but I mean that if a young man goes with a girl steady, even though not engaged to her, that it is proper for her to kiss him. I myself have been kissed by a girl who was not engaged to me, and I do not think it is wrong for a young man to kiss a girl who is not engaged to him.

STOLEN SWEETS THE BEST

In answer to "One Who Keeps Company," I must say that I think it proper to sit on a young lady's lap if she is willing to let you sit on her lap, and I think it is all right if the girl is willing, and I think so, whether or no. It is not a fellow's right to steal a kiss, and, therefore, proper? I keep company myself, and think it proper. Moreover, "stolen sweets are the sweetest." P. S. V. T. Youkers, N. Y.

VERY UNLADYLIKE, INDEED

My opinion about young girls sitting on a young man's lap is that she should not do so. A ladylike, whether engaged or not. And about kissing a young man before engagement, that it is very improper indeed. I surely would have more respect and esteem for a young girl if she were not quite so forward. SPRING VALLEY, N. Y.

IT IS BETTER NOT TO DO IT

To the Editor: "One Who Keeps Company" is unquestionably correct in his view of allowing the young man to kiss her and sitting on a young man's lap. While many a young man likes to have a young lady sit on his lap, still he respects her far more if she will not do so. Indulgent kisses are also something to be avoided. The "parting" kiss is not frequent, or a kiss not always expected. Any young man who is true will think more of the girl who positively refuses to sit on his lap and who adheres to her determination. I speak as one of the "fellows," but would like to know what the girls think of the question. "BROWNIE," Brooklyn, N. Y.

To the Editor: Last night as I lay sleeping I had a curious dream. And after I think it over, funny to me it did seem. It presented many incidents of the mighty, coming fray. Of the battle to be lost and won upon election day. I dreamed that all our dealers—yes, every merchant's son—
